Ambulance garage, computer in budget

A new ambulance garage by the firehall and a computer system are two highlights of the proposed Anson, Hindon and Minden budget presented to council by Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas of the budget committee. Reeve Lyle McKnight is the other member of the committee.

Recalling promises council members made while campaigning to "squeeze every dollar" Pergolas gave a general outline of the municipality's financial guide and was commended for the tight budget devised.

The budget still requires discussion and approval by the council but Pergolas said Tuesday he doesn't "expect any problems at all" gaining acceptance. The budget will be discussed at a meeting Thursday night at 8:00.

The new ambulance garage, to be built next to the municipal firehall, will open up room for office space within the municipal building following renovations. Pergolas said at the meeting more office space is a prerequisite before encouraging provincial government agencies to locate in Minden.

The computers are an item McKnight said he formerly questioned. However, he said the arguments for the purchase are convincing.

Pergolas estimated the computers will pay for themselves in three to four years. Programs, usually rented, will be bought and the cost assigned to next year's budget. The deputy reeve expects the programs will not be difficult to rent to municipalities or others. The computers, which are anticipated to cut months of time from assembling reports, have been quoted at $23,000.

Other expenditures to be made in the next year include: $465,000 for parks and recreation which includes the $199,000 the municipality received for NEED projects within the village, $60,000 for welfare, an increase of $15,000 over 1982, $40,000 for dump maintenance, $36,000 for planning and development, $20,000 for core area improvements and $14,700 for the mini fair.

Pergolas pointed out the allotment for planning and development is low considering work required on the zoning by-law, the official plan and the area information booth, but remarked the Ministry of Housing has

Students claim top chemistry prizes

Three HHSS grade 13 students recently won awards for excellent achievements in a chemistry examination.

The three, Mike Pearson, Craig Saunders and Bruce White, were among 6801 grade 13 students across Canada to take part in the 1983 Chem-13 examination. The test, sponsored by the University of Toronto and the University of Waterloo, is held annually as a challenge to senior high school chemistry students across the country.

The examination was written April 29 with the results being announced recently.

The final marks from the examination were ranked on a percentile basis. This means the 6801 students would be assigned a rating between 0 and 100 based on their mark on the test.

Bruce White topped the three HHSS students with a percentile of 99.2. His outstanding effort meant he was awarded a subscription to 'Science '83' and he was invited to apply for a research assistantship in chemistry at the University of Waterloo or in chemical engineering at the University of Toronto.

Two other HHSS participants received book prizes for their high ranking in the test. Craig Saunders received a percentile of 97 while Mike Pearson had a rating of 95.3 percentile.

117 petition council over high water conditions

A petition, bearing 117 names, demanding that the municipality do something to contain the Gull River within its banks, was presented to the Anson, Hindon and Minden council May 26. Garth Gammon, a resident of North Water Street, presented the document to the councillors.

The petition requested that the municipality acquire a block of property belonging to Paul Meuller on North Water Street. The property was inundated by the recent high water experienced along the Gull River.

Following a discussion, the council agreed to approach the property owner with an appraisal of the property and an offer to purchase, based on the appraisal. "In all fairness we should acquire the lot," said Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas. "He'll never get a building permit for it."

The property is a lot fronting on the river. It is one of the first along the river within Minden to flood when high water conditions are experienced. During shoreline improvements along the river until the community receives special policy area status. The township is currently carrying out a flood plain mapping project which would identify the area eligible for SPA status. The council has been assured by the Ministry of Housing and the Ministry of Natural recent high water conditions most of the property was inundated.

Councillor Gary Kenney explained to the petitioner that he was reluctant to approve expenditure of municipal funds for Resources that the SPA designation will be granted, in principle, as soon as the flood plain mapping is completed.

Kenney said once the SPA has been assigned to the community, the municipality could be eligible for assistance in upgrading the riverbank.

Gammon also suggested the municipality should investigate the installation of one way culverts. This would allow water to flow toward the river but would automatically close when water attempted to flow in the opposite direction. He also asked the township to provide fill for the areas which have been inundated by the recent flooding.

Pergolas said he was skeptical about any "solutions" which would solve the flooding problem. "The Meuller lot is a swamp area at all times of the year," he commented. The Deputy Reeve's home is located across the street from the lot in question.

After accepting the petition, the council asked the parks committee to investigate the possible solutions to the problems.

Man charged in assault

A charge of sexual assault has been laid against a Huntsville man following an incident May 25 in Haliburton.

According to the police, an 18 year old high school student was jogging in the area of the school when she was approached by a man. The individual asked for directions and then began to follow the runner. The girl was knocked to the ground from behind.

She managed to fight off the attacker and ran off to her home nearby where she notified the police. The girl was taken to the Haliburton Red Cross Hospital where she was treated for cuts and bruises.

Charged in the incident was 19 year old George

Lupton of Huntsville. He is scheduled to appear in court in Minden June 6.

Charge laid

A charge of careless driving was laid against a Glamorgan Township man following a single car accident near Gooderham. The mishap occurred May 26.

According to the police report, Craig Mintz, 17, of Glamorgan Township was driving his car on Highway 503 when he lost control of the vehicle and it left the roadway rolling over into the ditch. The car sustained $4000 damage.

The driver was slightly injured in the mishap.

The accident was investigated by Constable Paul Shaughnessy.

yet to add their contribution.

Pergolas had other welcome news for the council. The municipal deficit of about $10,000, incurred when the Ministry of Health failed to accept Anson, Hindon and Minden's request for funds last year, will be paid off by the Ministry in 1983.

Also, while the municipality has not received confirmation of a special $135,000 grant for street reconstruction, Pergolas was confident enough to inform council the money would be treated as a supplementary to the budget.

"Our reserve funds are in pretty good shape," continued the deputy reeve. The goal for the first fund is to cover 75 percent of the total commitment of accumulated sick leave. There are about 140 days amassed.

A reserve of $139,000 will be treated as a working fund by the municipality. Pergolas as said he would like to use the fund for borrowing for building, instead of paying debentures. This way interest is paid to the municipality rather than to another body.

The municipality received about a four percent increase in the unconditional grant from the province "which didn't leave much room to manoeuvre," said Pergolas.

Taxes for residents of the municipality will increase 5.2 percent, close to the desired five percent the province advocates.

The increases mean Anson, Hindon and Minden has estimated expenditures would increase by $99,573, from the 1982 total of $1,229,380 to $1,328,953. Of this total about 33 percent or $399,323 comes from residents, up from $379,505 in 1982. The final budget, incorporating the education contribution and municipality's share of the county levy, will be passed at the June 2 special budget meeting.

The Haliburton County School Board budget will increase an average of 12%. The increase was approved by the board at the May 17 meeting.

The increase means the board will be collecting $4,243,782 from county residents to support the operation of the area schools. The total budget for the school board was set at $7,602,126. The provincial grant provides $3,212,851. The 1982 total board budget was $6,751,505. The budget represents a $850,622 increase from 1982 to 1983.

While the average municipal levy will increase 12%, some townships will be paying slightly more than, that while others, notably Monmouth and Sherbourne et al will be contributing 13% more.

The allotment for the individual townships for school board purposes is:

- Anson, Hindon and Minden: elementary - $488,252; secondary - $358,347; total - $846,599; representing an 11.9% increase.

- Bicroft: elementary - $38,691; secondary - $30,972; total - 69,663; representing an increase of 13.4%.

- Cardiff: elementary - $122,403; secondary - $92,573; total - $214,976; representing an increase of 12.4%.

- Dysart et al: elementary - $753,499; secondary - $552,654; total - $1,306,153; representing an increase of 11.6%.

- Glamorgan: elementary - $155,821; secondary - $114,045; total - $269,866; representing an increase of 11.9%.

- Lutterworth: elementary - $183,734; secondary - $134,492; total - $318,226; representing an increase of 11.9%.

- Monmouth: elementary - $102,391; secondary - $75,060; total - $177,451; representing an increase of 13%.

- Sherbourne et al: elementary - $227,358; secondary - $166,423; total - $393,781; representing an increase of $13.3%.

- Snowdon: elementary - $82,508; secondary - $60,485; total - $142,993; representing an increase of 12.8%.

- Stanhope: elementary - $290,990; secondary - $213,084; total - $504,074; representing an increase of 11.5%.

Police probe thefts

Police are investigating a large number of thefts which occurred in the county during the past week. Among the items purloined were cash, canoes, a motorcycle, and four chainsaws. The chainsaws were taken from a locked steel box left near a skidder parked in the bush close to Denna Lake. Also missing in the week of thefts was the flag from the pole in front of the Canadian Legion in Wilberforce.

Committee plans July 1 celebration

A meeting to discuss plans for the Canada Day celebrations in Minden will be held tonight (June 1) at the municipal council chambers. (An announcement in last week's edition of The Times indicated the meeting would be held June 8.)

The committee established to organize events for the July 1 celebration will meet to consider various programs which have been proposed. Individuals and organizations which are interested in organizing or sponsoring a portion of the celebrations are invited to attend the meeting and present their ideas.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Response poor - rental reduced

The mini-fair, three pavilions designed to give craftspeople an outlet for their wares and encourage tourism, has not been accorded the response expected by council and especially Gary Kenney, creator of the mini fair.

Kenney said three problems have conspired to limit the fair's success. Craftspeople he has discussed the idea with are receptive but do not want to commit themselves to an untried idea. Secondly, it was unanimously agreed that the rental price for the booths was too expensive and the structure of the packages of days too rigid. Lastly, Kenney said that although there had been enough advance publicity about the fair, prospective participants seemed unused to the opportunity to sell their wares after the large annual Christmas sale in Haliburton and so had done little work since that time.

Kenney said that while 20 to 25 people have indicated an interest in the fair, there are only five concrete applications for booths.

To counter the problems, Kenney has dropped the package system of dealing the booths as well as the price. Now booths are available for a straight $10 per day, a fee suggested by craftspeople.

The councillor also said the street fair planned for June 10 will not go ahead due to the poor response. The fair was to be sponsored by the Agnes Jamieson Gallery.

Deputy Reeve, Ed. Pergolas asked Kenney about the possibility of allowing non-profit organizations to have booths.

Kenney replied that the new $10 fee "is not out of hand" but in the event of empty booths, the clubs could move in.

Kenney concluded the concept of the mini fair will take at least this year to instill some confidence in the craftspeople. Also, this may encourage the craftspeople to arrange to have work done for the mini fair sales.

In the meantime, the two other pavilions built and waiting to be assembled, have already been tentatively allocated to other uses.

One of the buildings has been put to use as the new area information booth, located in Lutterworth Township. The municipality has offered the building, the concrete pad as its foundation and the wiring of the booth as its contribution. Lutterworth has purchased and prepared the land. The rest of the costs will be divided in half.

The other building may be used to provide a shell for proposed washrooms at the fair grounds in Minden.

The wrong solution

Anson, Hindon and Minden council is opening a Pandora's box in contemplating the purchase of a river lot which is affected by flooding. The council, in considering a petition signed by 117 area residents, appeared to be leaning toward buying the property because, as Deputy Reeve Ed. Pergolas noted, "the owner will never get a building permit for it."

The petition presented to the council asked that the municipality considers acquiring the property or providing fill to raise the lot's grade. Other remedial measures were also proposed to help contain the Gull River within its banks.

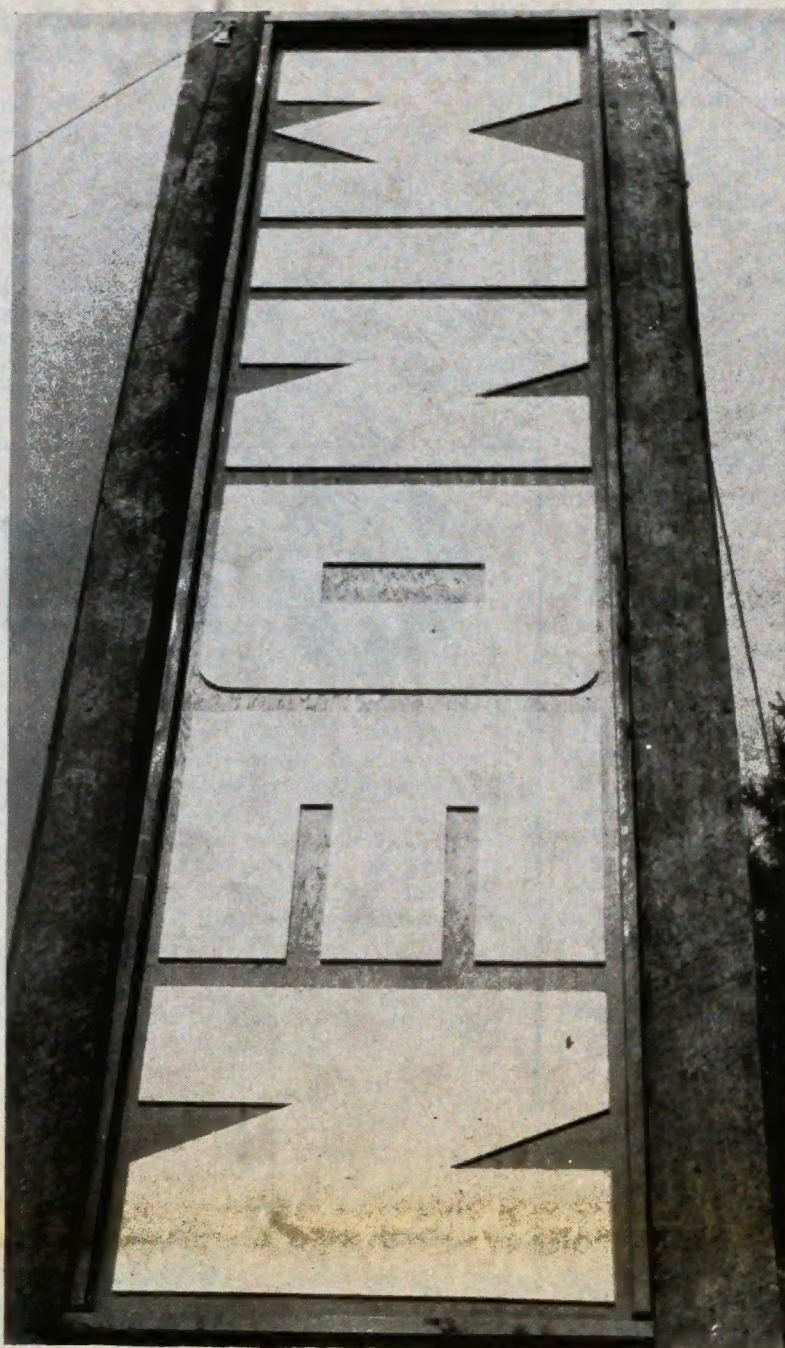

The suggestion that the municipality should purchase the lot in question, simply because a building permit would never be issued for it, borders on the absurd. There are many lots in the municipality which were flooded by recent high water. Some of those would no doubt not qualify for a building permit because of their location. If the council feels it should purchase this lot, surely all the others caught in similar circumstances should be offered the same solution.

And not far behind the long line of property owners of flooded property will be others with lots which for one reason or another, will never receive a building permit. Undersized lots, lots without proper set-backs, property on steep terrain or where septic installations are impossible...the list is endless.

While we sympathize with the concerns of those who recently found the Gull River invading their property, we do not feel the municipality should be offering to assist them out of this dilemma by purchasing the property. If the council chooses to follow this route, it will find itself inundated by requests for similar relief.

As was pointed out at the special meeting May 23, the property owners along the river should have been aware of the potential hazards of living next to a river when they purchased their property. While every effort should be made to ensure flooding is avoided, it should also be recognized that high water levels will be experienced from time to time by those choosing to live beside the Gull River.

What do you think?

The Minden BIA has erected new signs at the entrance to Minden. Since the signs were set in place, members of the community have been commenting on the design and nature of them. We'd like to know what you think. For the next couple of weeks, The Times will be accepting unsigned letters offering comments on the signs. Send your comments to Box 97, Minden, Ontario KOM 2K0.

Editor:

With reference to County Council's vote not to continue the discussion on herbicide spraying in this County, I would like to object to this decision.

The council should be in touch with the peoples' views and not just their own opinions. County Council has done a lot of good for this area in the past and I would not like to lose my faith in them now. I feel they may lose some credibility by evading this issue.

The chemical sprays used by Hydro and the M.T.C. have the "smell of death" on them, to me. Whilst we cannot turn back the clock and recover any previous damage to our environment we certainly can start now by showing an active interest in the management of brush control and the chemicals used for this control.

Our roadsides, are an eyesore, brown and dead, no longer beautiful. The use of these sprays is detrimental to our tourist trade. Unlike some other holiday areas we have no industry to fall back upon. Tourism, is our livelihood, the only business we have up here.

County Council is a respected group of elected people. Therefore, in my opinion, they must endeavour to tackle all issues that may be of public concern.

Regarding Mrs. Harrison's letter in the May 25 edition of The Times.

After digesting the content of this letter, I initially thought that Yvonne had died. This eulogy, though commendable, is certainly not germane to the point of my original letter, and the snide comment alluding to vocabulary and Webster's, most irrelevant and distasteful.

If Yvonne is indeed such an eminent personality in the community, please provide space for her own personal column, which can be appreciated, or ignored on one's own prerogative.

401 highway robbery

- by John Eakins, M.P.P. -

Gasoline vendors at service centres along the Macdonald - Cartier Freeway and other major highways in the province should post the prices of the various grades of gasoline and other fuels adjacent to or on highway signs indicating an upcoming service centre.

For years, motorists driving along our major east-west traffic artery, Highway 401, have been compelled to pay excessively high gasoline prices at these service centres, despite pleas from Members of the Opposition that the Ontario Government intervene to prevent what some would consider to be "highway robbery".

With the posting of the fuel prices a short distance in front of the entrance to the service centre, consumers would at least be aware of the costs facing them should they choose to purchase gasoline at one of the centres.

At the present time, fuel vendors in many communities in this province post, on a voluntary basis, the prices of the various grades of gasoline and other fuels. Surely it is not asking too much to have those who sell fuel at service centres along our major highways to do the same thing.

Land tax evasion

My Leader David Peterson has been critical of the Minister of Revenue for his attempt to plug a loophole in provincial land transfer tax legislation which he charges has cost taxpayers hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Last November, we disclosed how foreign purchasers of farmland in Huron and Bruce counties were evading the 20 per cent tax. Using the loophole on, for example, a $500,000 land deal, a foreign purchaser instead of paying $100,000 tax (20 per cent), is able to be categorized as a "resident buyer" and pay only $4,010. They get around the law by instructing farmers to incorporate their land as numbered companies and then selling their farms to their own corporations. The farmer could then transfer the corporation to lawyers or real estate agents acting on behalf of the foreign buyers.

The Minister of Revenue introduced a bill in December to plug the loop-

from the chamber

Sorry, but there wasn't enough hours last week to produce the regular From The Chamber column. There's just so much going on lately that we can't seem to put it all together, and even as this column is being prepared we're packing our bags to head to Sudbury for the Ontario Chamber of Commerce Convention.

The office is fairly reeling under the pressure. We are still completing the tail end of the mail out program for 15,000 directories and at the same time launching the coin program which already has 4,000 out of the 10,000 coins minted into circulation in the County. In the midst of all this the decision was made to put a rush on the Shop & Deal in the Highlands campaign in order to have it ready to launch at the Kinsmen Home & Cottage Show in Haliburton on June 10. Thirty-two participants are presently committed to that program and it looks like a real winner.

Of course there's meetings to attend as well including a board meeting for Resorts Ontario in Bracebridge, a COTA Marketing Preview meeting in Lindsay, Hospitality Training Committee meeting, Steering Committee meeting for the Small Business Management Development Program, and our own Board of Directors meeting.

We also held interviews this week to select staff for our Travel Counselling positions this summer and are pleased to announce the successful candidates. Suzie Wingat and Brenda Fearrey are both returning to their respective posts at Minden and Haliburton, having served successful terms for us in the past. A new program called Internship is providing Dawn Elliott with a job over the next three summers which will increase in responsibility with each successive year.

Minden is organizing for July 1

With the dust settling (albiet very wet dust) after the successful May 24 celebration in Haliburton Village, Minden is now preparing for their first attempt at a Dominion Day Celebration. The organizing of the day is being spearheaded by two ambitious young ladies, namely Pat Balcombe and Robin Bailey. They held their first organizational meeting two weeks ago at the Minden Council Chambers, and their next meeting is scheduled for the same location on Wednesday of this week.

They are calling on all clubs and associations in and around Minden to participate in any way they can. Emphasis is being put on family events where children, their parents, and their grandparents can enjoy hole, but it died on the order paper. It was re-introduced last month. Since then, apparently, there has been "an explosion" of deals with foreign buyers rushing to beat the deadline and avoid paying the tax before the legislation becomes law. After the charge by David Peterson, the Minister said the legislation would be made retroactive to April 21, when he re-introduced it.

Paramedics

According to the Minister of Health, Ontario can expect to have 20 to 40 paramedics trained to operate in Toronto, Hamilton and in air ambulances by the end of the year, as a pilot project.

It's his intention to ask for provincial money to start up the first paramedic training program, after health experts have stated that hundreds of lives could be saved by paramedics. A Cabinet committee has approved the program. However, doctors and opposition members maintain that the program should be expanded to the entire province.

According to the Minister, the cost of a full program, including training the paramedics and doctors, installing two-way radios and setting up specialized base hospitals would reach $50 million to $100 million across the province, and some of that money would come from hospital budgets.

a day of fun, competitions, and celebrations together. If you have ideas or anything else to contribute by all means please get in touch with these girls or go to their meeting and talk it up.

It's beginning to look like rain and floods can't possibly dampen the spirits of people in the Highlands so whatever the weather this day is bound to be a great success.

See you at the show

As we mentioned earlier in this column the Shop & Deal in the Highlands campaign will be launched at our booth in the Kinsmen Home & Cottage Show on June 10, 11 and 12. We'll be there with the discount books containing hundreds of dollars worth of savings and we'll also have some trade dollars available at the booth. Walter Thomas tells me there are still a few, but very few booths still available at the show and anyone wishing to participate should contact him immediately at 457-1996.

Meeting for developing businesses

Next Wednesday, June 8, the public meeting for the Small Business Management Development program will be held at Wig-A-Mog Inn as 7:30 p.m. All business people are encouraged to turn out and find out all the details about this program.

Our Economic Development Commission applied almost three years ago to have this program made available in the County and it has taken this long for our name to reach the top of the list. It costs nothing to attend the meeting and only a very nominal registration fee if you are fortunate enough to be selected as a participant in the program. You can't afford to miss this meeting.

Program will assist 25 Highlands businesses

Haliburton Highlands business people will be briefed on an Ontario government program to assist small businesses on Wednesday, June 8 at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will take place at the Wig-A-Mog Inn.

The Small Business Management Development Program, sponsored by the Ministry of Industry and Trade is intended to provide established locally owned and managed businesses with up-to-date information on management techniques.

The program objectives are to improve the service, organization and profit structure of retailers, tourist operators and service companies in the program, through counselling and the demonstration of new management and accounting procedures.

The program will be co-ordinated by The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce through their Economic Development Committee which will select 25 owner-managed businesses from the list of applicants.

Each of the selected businesses will have its operations assessed confidentially by a consulting firm hired by the ministry.

Interested individuals are invited to leave their names at the end of the meeting or telephone the Chamber at 286-1760.

Committee members are: Dennis Casey, George Schmid, Ray Selbie, Roger Dart, Al Mayo, Walter Prime, Gary Kenney and Chamber Manager Bob Stinson.

Participants will be selected from the list of applicants by June 13, with counselling to be completed in July. Follow-up assessments will be undertaken in August and November, with a wind-up dinner scheduled for November 24.

Private consultants for the program, were selected from 19 firms invited to submit proposals.

Rabies could pose serious problem

The number of animal rabies cases is expected to reach record proportions this year and Health Minister Larry Grossman is urging all Ontario residents to arm themselves in the fight against this threatening disease.

"The increased incidences of rabies in Ontario is alarming and a serious threat to all pet owners, farmers and anyone who may come into contact with domestic or wild animals," Grossman said.

In 1982, 2,281 were found to be rabid, and 2,402 people were treated for possible exposure to rabies, the largest number ever recorded in the province. The number of humans treated increased by about 120 per cent over 1980 and the number of animal cases by 47 per cent, according to Dr. Alvin Evans, senior veterinarian with the Ministry of Health.

"For the most part the human exposures are due to carelessness," Dr. Evans said. "People insist on letting their pets roam, and are careless about handling stray, sick or dead animals. Domestic pets and animals account for only eight per cent of rabid animals. However, of the 16,000 humans treated for rabies in the past 10 years, more than 50 per cent were treated because of contact with known rabid stray dogs and cats."

Rabies is most often transmitted by skunks and foxes to domestic animals such as dogs, cats, horses, cows and even pigs.

$1.5 million for vaccine

Although the number of animal rabies cases from January to March, 1983 has decreased to 491 from 614 in the same period last year, the number of people treated for exposure has increased from 476 to 569.

The dramatic number of treatments in 1982 cost Ontario about $1.5 million in vaccines alone.

Each time a person is treated with the five-injection inoculation series, the price tag is about $600.

Add to that figure the cost of tracing victims, administration, laboratory and doctors' fees and the cost soars even higher, Dr. Evans says.

For example:

In a recent series of episodes in one area documented by the ministry, several domestic dogs fought with rabid foxes. The dogs were subsequently handled by a number of family members, friends and neighbours. Cost for treating 66 individuals for possible exposure to rabies: $39,000 for vaccine alone, quite apart from the emotional strain and inconvenience involved.

A family dog encountered a rabid fox in a garage.

Before the pet could be quarantined it came into contact with 10 children and eight adults. Cost for just the treatment was $9,500.

"The emotional trauma in having a family pet or farm animal destroyed, having to undergo rabies treatment, and the concern over whether it is going to be successful, makes the rabies threat an even more damaging one," said Mr. Grossman.

Rabies is a contagious and fatal disease which is spread from one animal to another or from an animal to a human via biting or the contact of open wounds or membranes with infected saliva. If the infection is established in the nervous system and symptoms develop, death is inevitable.

Southern Ontario has highest incidence

Southern Ontario has the highest incidence of wildlife rabies per area in North America, accounting for at least 80 per cent of all reported cases in Canada.

Bites or other close contact with an animal suspected of having rabies must, by law, be reported immediately to a medical officer of health and a doctor should be consulted without delay.

From the time an animal is infected with rabies until the symptoms begin to show can be as short as one week or more than six months. Those symptoms may vary according to the type of animal affected, but a dramatic change in temperament, such as friendliness in a wild animal, is usually indicative of rabies.

A dog or cat suspected of having been exposed to rabies is quarantined for six months or the owners may decide to have the animal destroyed.

A person who has been exposed to the saliva of a rabid animal must begin the anti-rabies vaccination series. It takes a month to complete the series of six injections. The vaccine usually doesn't produce severe side effects but some people may experience nausea, weakness and headaches.

"It's of paramount importance, particularly as we face the possibility of large number of animal rabid cases, that the public does all it can to protect itself from this dangerous disease," Grossman stated.

There are a number of precautions that must be taken:

- Vaccinate all dogs and cats.

- Vaccinate farm or domestic animals particularly those in contact with a number of people such as in riding schools or in displays.

- Keep pets on a leash, particularly in areas where other animals are likely to be encountered.

- Keep pets, especially cats, indoors at night.

- Stay away from all wild animals; especially discourage children from approaching any stray animals who may appear to be friendly.

- Do not touch any dead animal. If doing so is unavoidable, wear leather mitts or gloves.

- Do not kill a suspected rabid animal unless it attacks. Isolate it, if possible, and seek assistance from the police or humane society. Where there has been human contact and the animal is killed, make sure the head is kept for laboratory examination.

- If a family pet shows signs of being sick, and if there is any possibility of exposure to a rabid animal, contact a veterinarian.

Club doesn't like lease

Glynne Lewis, president of the Haliburton County Marksmen's Club, said the group is not pleased by the new lease written by the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

"We're not happy about it," said Lewis and he refused to comment further before a club meeting to be held June 1.

The municipality had exercised its 90 day option to rewrite the lease following a series of complaints from residents by the Bobcaygeon Road north club. They had complained of noise and some felt the proximity of the club to residences posed a hazard.

The new terms of the lease limit shooting on Sundays from 12:01 to 5:00 for 20 Sundays per calendar year. There will be no shooting Monday and Tuesday.

Another fear of nearby residents was addressed by the lease. Some believed the metal targets could some time cause a bullet to ricochet into a backyard. The lease states common nails are to be the only metal on the targets.

Councillor Gary Kenney asked for a recorded vote on the resolution covering the lease. Kenney said later he is not against the gun club but feels they are in "a very poor location". The councillor cast the only negative vote.

Driver charged after accident

A charge of impaired driving has been laid against a Fruitland, Ontario man following a two car accident May 27 at the Twelve Mile Lake bridge on Highway 35.

Police report that a truck, being driven by Douglas Colburn, 41, of Bowmanville, was southbound when it was struck from behind by a car driven by Cornelis Edward Bergshoeff of Fruitland. The impact caused one vehicle to slam into the guardrails on the approach to the bridge.

Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $2000 each.

Constable Paul Shaughnessy investigated the mishap.

Dorset break-in Police suspect the individual who broke into the Dorset municipal office recently was the same one who entered the community's library during the past week. The conclusion was based on a study of the footprints left behind at both locations.

Access to the library was gained by forcing a door open. Damage was estimated at $30 to the door frame. A small amount of cash was taken from the building.

Seniors from Dorset and area gathered at the community centre recently to enjoy a luncheon and re-establish old friendships. The event was hosted by the organizers of the Pioneer Week festivities to be held later this summer. The seniors were treated to a luncheon, viewed film footage of the early days of Dorset and had an opportunity to exchange distant but fondly recalled memories. Elected by their peers were Hector and Marcella MacKay runners-up and Ellen and Orrie Avery, King and Queen of Pioneer Week.

Dorset honours pioneers

A special luncheon was held May 15, during an afternoon which honoured the men and women who helped established the community of Dorset and the surrounding area.

Reverend Kim Wright of the United Church acted as master of ceremonies for the afternoon. He introduced Malcolm Scott, Mayor of Lake of Bays, Dalton Mac Donald, reeve of Sherbourne et al and Chris Schuetze of the Lions Club, the organization which was responsible for the dinner.

Before the meal old friends re-established their relationships and younger people were taken back to the older days through conversation with the seniors.

Hector and Marcella MacKay were one of the couples attending the pioneer luncheon. They recalled the old days gone by sharing the memories of old Dorset as they enjoyed their meal.

Hector was born in 1908. He remembers going to school in town, "right next to the old jail!" used most often for only one night at a time, the occupant sleeping off a visit to a drinking establishment.

The stern school teacher ("she had discipline"), Mrs. Bates was "second to none".

"In church on Sunday she'd pray for strength to whip us all on Monday," Hector related, laughing uproariously.

The teacher was responsible for her students until they reached their homes. Therefore the boys would hide their pipes under the loose boards of the wooden sidewalk. "It was a good place to hide pipes."

"You had to watch out for the loose planks in the sidewalk. We'd try to trip each other," Hector grinned.

When he left school, he headed into the lumber camps as just about every young man did. Lumber was big business in the area at the time and brought in money enough to the town to support three large hotels for tourists, including the old Ganoseyo which burnt down in 1927, several ferries and the shortest railroad in the country.

Hector recalled the perfectionism of the older lumbermen in his camp. "The young men up from Toronto changed all that. They had to have jobs, though," he said. It was the depression.

There were 90 men in the camp. Hector earned $40 a month for the six days a week he worked. "Six days of wear and tear, the seventh day to mend and repair," he quoted.

Later, on the roads the government was building as make work projects during the thirties, Hector earned $1.25 a day. When he had his truck he made a dollar an hour "good money in those days."

He built his house with about $50 of material purchased in Gravenhurst. He had to carry the logs for the house on his back.

Some 50 years later, in fact just after he and his wife Marcella celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at the old Dorset community centre, the townspeople are celebrating their community with a Pioneer Week to be held July 30 to August 6. The proceeds go to the community centre to finance a new building. The seniors eating their lunch support the new centre.

Later in the day, Hector and Marcella are chosen as runners-up for King and Queen of the week of celebration.

"Oh, it was a good era to grow up in," said Hector.

"But it was good to live that life in the old days when we were younger," added his wife.

by Ron Reid - Federation of Ontario Naturalists

The provincial government has endorsed a new policy to direct the extraction of sand, gravel, and stone from the pits and quarries of the province. In response, the Foundation for Aggregate Studies, a Toronto-based environmental group, has predicted that the policy "will hang like a black cloud" over many of Ontario's rural communities.

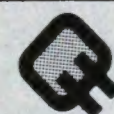

The problem is most severe in communities such as Pelham, Halton Hills, Caledon, and Uxbridge, who have traditionally supplied materials for the cities of the Golden Horseshoe. Faced with the disruption to the natural and social environment caused by aggregate operations, these municipalities had become increasingly restrictive for new pits. Now the province has decreed that municipal plans "should provide a clear and reasonable mechanism to permit the establishment or expansion of pits and quarries."

The policy goes even further, instructing municipalities to "identify and protect" from incompatible land uses those areas with aggregate extraction potential. This could add up to half a million acres in southern Ontario. Exceptions can be made only if extraction would not be feasible or the municipality can prove that some other land use would serve a greater long term interest of the general public.

As past experience has shown in cases such as the Oriskany sandstone and the Speyside quarry, aggregate extraction could have serious impact on the natural environment. The new policy does allow municipalities to prohibit some kinds of pits in areas of particular environmental sensitivity, but it also seems to ensure that there will be many battles ahead along the Niagara Escarpment and elsewhere to stop undesirable proposals. Unfortunately, the weight of the Ministry of Natural Resources will be against the conservation of natural areas in those battles. The policy commits the Ministry to make representations to the Ontario Municipal Board on gravel issues, something that they won't do for wetlands. It also serves to only "encourage" the industry to rehabilitate their eyesores, rather than forcing them to do so.

Copies of the Mineral Aggregate Policy are available from the Ministry of Natural Resources, Whitney Block, Queen's Park, Toronto. If your community will soon be facing demands for new gravel pits or quarries, the Policy should be required reading.

Minden Seniors down Haliburton

The Minden seniors opened the 1983 county ladies baseball season with a win over the Haliburton seniors.

The Minden squad was led by Wendy Gough and Trish Slavik who were three for four at the plate. Diane Warnes and Trish Slavik turned in good defensive games for Minden.

Kim Roberts and Betty Whiteway led Haliburton at the plate. Nelda Cully took the win on the mound with the loss going to Nancy Maughn.

Tuesday evening (May 24) the Minden Seniors met the new Haliburton juniors. Minden was led by Rhonda Wilson who batted three for four. Miriam Smith was three for three for the Haliburton team. Tracey Harrison and Marla McNaull turned in strong defensive game for Haliburton.

Soccer team looks for first victory

The Haliburton Highlands soccer team is making a valiant effort to leave its mark in the world of sport. The struggling first year team has lost its first three outings but, according to one official, the spirit and enthusiasm of the team members is still high.

The team played its first home game Sunday in Haliburton, meeting Bracebridge Centennial. While the 3 - 0 score may indicate to some that the team is having trouble, it is worth noting that the difference between the winning and losing score has decreased sharply since the team first played.

In its first contest, the Highlands entry was shut-out by Gravenhurst, 7 - 0. The second game saw the Orillia Bantams defeat the Haliburton county team 8 - 1. The lone Haliburton goal coming from Paul Milne.

Indication of the spirit on the team is evident in the fact that 27 individuals are now registered as team members. The overabundance of players have been divided roughly into a Haliburton and Minden squad with the players sharing the games. With the large number of players, the practises are more like a regular game.

The team is still searching for its first win and it may find it this Sunday. They play their second home contest at the HHSS field in Haliburton. Game time is 2 p.m. The team has also scheduled a practise for this Thursday evening at the Archie Stouffer field in Minden. The practise will start at 7 p.m.

Lawn bowlers open season

The fourth lawn bowling season opened May 25.

- submitted -

May 25 marked the opening of the Minden Lawn Bowling Club for the fourth season.

About eighty members and guests were present. Among the guests were Reeve Lyle McKnight and his wife, Linda. It is always good to see members of the Council present to give support to projects in the community.

Now that the membership has passed the ninety mark, the Club will be operating five nights a week, for team competition, from seven until nine. After nine, any members who wish to participate in a draw game will be most welcome to do so. It is hoped that members will also make use of the facilities during the day.

When the members arrived for the meeting, they couldn't help but comment on the many improvements that have been made by dedicated, enthusiastic members.

President James Burton conducted a short business meeting. Members of the executive (past president Donald Sinclair, president James Burton, first vice president Alberta Maitland, second vice president Ev Rudd, secretary Gloria Lemieux, treasurer Holly Cooper) are all to be commended for having everything so well organized. Only those who have served on executives realize how many hours have to be spent, if a club is to operate successfully.

Gloria Lemieux, Georgina Deeks, Alberta Maitland and Helen Burton have arranged the teams and hope that all will have a super season of bowling. Bowling began May 30.

It was good to see past presidents Cy Heal and Donald Sinclair taking an active part. Cy designed a club pin and Don made sure that the pins were made up and ready for sale. Judging by the number being worn, sales are going well.

Following the business meeting some prospective members tried bowling and joined the members in a wine and cheese party. The social convenor, Simone Palmer and her assistants had prepared a very attractive buffet which all enjoyed.

It was apparent that there was great enthusiasm as the members greeted each other during the social hour.

If you haven't seen the Minden Lawn Bowling facilities, you should do so. You would be made most welcome.

Internship program questioned

A grant the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden has received was responsible for a difference of opinion during the council meeting May 26.

The municipality applied for the grant to hire an intern to work under the supervision of by-law enforcement officer Dick Schell. Council expects that when the program is completed in three years, Schell's understudy will be hired by the municipality. The funding allotted to the municipality totals $2156.

The problem which arose was the length of the internship. The grant is set up for three years and Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas questioned the likelihood a student would complete all three years. "To tie up a 17 or 18 year old for three years is ridiculous," said the deputy reeve. He said the maturity of prospective interns places completion of the three year time period during successive summers in doubt.

Pergolas also said more than one person will be required to instruct the intern because Schell will often be too busy to "fiddle around" constructively filling the intern's time.

The deputy reeve's last point also centred around the time period. He noted a student graduating this year from the high school and furthering his or her education at a university in a four year program will not be available when the internship has been completed.

Reeve Lyle McKnight disagreed with Pergolas' estimation of a young intern's interest in the job and said he thought the deputy reeve was "selling the young people short".

Schell said he planned to teach the groundwork knowledge to the student who would profit by it, as would the municipality, in the second installment of the program. "If they had a chance at a steady job, I think they'd take it," he summed up.

Councillor Gary Kenney pointed out that to solve the problem created by the varying lengths of time between the internship and a university education, only students accepted into two or three year courses should be considered for employment.

The deputy reeve suggested questioning the liaison person from the sponsoring ministry. "He can probably cover this problem," he concluded.

Schell closed the discussion with the comment that Ken Rydeman, a guidance counsellor at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, is enthusiastic about the idea. According to Schell, Rydeman sees the internship as a good method to train students in jobs available in the Highlands and help stem the exodus of young people.

Looking back

Certainly one of the major influences on settlement in Haliburton County was the Canada Land and Emigration Company. The company purchased ten townships, Dysart, Dudley, Harcourt, Guilford, Harburn, Bruton, Havelock, Eyre, Clyde and Longford with the intention of selling parcels of land to settlers from Europe. At the company's annual meeting in London, England, March 20, 1865, the shareholders were given reports based on the correspondence of two company agents in Haliburton. The letters of Charles James Bloomfield and Charles Russell Stewart contained the following observations:

Mr. Stewart in a letter addressed to the directors on the 19th February last, says: "The settlers who have recently come in are of the very best description, Canadians chiefly, accustomed to the woods, and in every instance men of respectability and means. I may say that we have been signally fortunate in securing settlers of respectability, for the character of the first settlers in a new country stamps it for ever after either with a good or a bad reputation. The means that have latterly been adopted by building a church, bringing in a surgeon, establishing schools, &c, secures to the settlement the most desirable class of settlers, and independently of all moral considerations, will be found excellent pecuniary investments."

Mr. Blomfield states "that the progress made in the sale of land since 1st April last, when we had many serious drawbacks to contend with, to which it is unnecessary for me to more than allude, will I trust, under the circumstances, be considered very satisfactory as promising large sales at no far distant date. Many of our settlers who have recently taken up land are men of some means and education. The local improvements in the last few months have been very considerable, and the advantages to settlers much more substantial than heretofore. The settlers are contented and hopeful, and the settlement generally may be considered in a very flourishing condition. The name of the Company wherever it is known now stands well from Quebec to Haliburton."

The following are Mr. Stewart's remarks as to future progress: "Of the future of the Company I can speak most hopefully. There is an excellent prospect of a substantial success. The majority of the new settlers take leases of their land at a rental of $10.50 per 100 acres. This at once secures a 7 per cent interest on an upset price of $1.50. Estimating the cost to the Company at 75 cents, this gives 14 per cent interest on the original purchase money, and the lots when sold will realise a profit of 100 per cent. Higher prices than these will in time be obtained but it would be most injudicious to raise the price at present. I can finally only repeat my former observations, that I believe the Company is in a fair way to substantial success. The opening of the Lindsay and Peterborough roads will remove the greatest difficulty in the way of settlement; and as the great advantages offered by the Company become known, and the really excellent quality of their lands become recognized, the influx of settlers will be rapidly augmented, and the prosperity both of the settlement and the Company be secured."

Mr. Blomfield reports that "The proposed establishment of a Norwegian, or, more properly speaking, a Scandinavian settlement, which had the approval of the directors in England, is being now put in a practical form, in accordance with the views expressed in their despatches on the subject. We hope soon to introduce a Norwegian clergyman, thoroughly reliable and of good business habits, to settle in one of our townships, who will act as a medium of communication between his countrymen and the English settlers, and in remunerating him for his services it is anticipated that we shall obtain some assistance from Government. We cannot at first expect to induce among the Norwegians, Swedes, or Danes, many men of means to settle in our township, but such will soon follow on hearing of the success of their countrymen, and the nucleus once formed, the growth of the settlement may be considered as secure."

From the nature of the operations of the Company, the shareholders cannot, of course, expect any immediate return for the capital invested, but notwithstanding some loss of time and money in the commencement, there is every prospect of a dividend being declared in a shorter time than in the case of the Canada Company, who were considered to have purchased some of the best land in the country on peculiarly favourable terms. In addition to these favourable reports, the directors are glad to state that indications of minerals of commercial value have been traced in the Company's lands, and it is hoped that further research will prove this a source of considerable profit to the Company. It is intended to pay interest for the year 1864 at the rate of 3 per cent on the paid-up capital, in the same manner as was done last year. On the establishment of the Company, it was anticipated that calls to the amount of £2 10s. per share would be very shortly required, and it was so stated in the prospectus. From the delay in the settlement with the Government only £2 per share has yet been called up. The directors therefore, propose an immediate call of 10s per share, and in order to complete the amount required for the settlement with Government, this will be followed, at not less than three months' interval, by another call of 10s, making in all £3 paid up per share...

At the meeting of the above company, the report, which had been previously issued to the shareholders, was taken as read.

In the absence of Mr. Haliburton (Thomas Chandler Haliburton (1796-1865), author of The Clock-maker and other humorous and historical works, was born in Windsor, Nova Scotia. In 1841 he was appointed to the Supreme Court Bench, and in 1856 left Canada to live in England. He was Chairman of the Canadian Land and Emigration Company and his name was given first to the village and later to the County of Haliburton), who arrived during the meeting, Mr. Montgomerie (Hugh Edmonstone Montgomerie of Gracechurch Street, London, a merchant) was elected to the chair and moved the adoption of the report, which he was glad to say was the most satisfactory that had hitherto been issued to the shareholders....

New engineer

- Ag report -

A new Agricultural Engineer is now available to serve the farmers in East Central Ontario. Steve Clarke has joined the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food staff on a contract basis.

Steve was raised on a beef farm at Iroquois Falls in Cochrane South District. He was an active 4-H club member for several years. He graduated from the University of Guelph in 1978 with a degree in Agricultural Engineering. Since then he has worked with a variety of engineering projects at the University, and with a private consulting engineering firm in Western Ontario.

Steve's home base with the Ministry will be the Newmarket Agricultural Office. He will be available to help farmers in Victoria and Haliburton Counties each Wednesday, when he will be located at the Lindsay office. Farmers wishing his assistance with an engineering concern should call the Lindsay office in advance to make an appointment with Steve for either an office consultation or a farm visit.

Stress with farming

Stress has been recognized in recent years as a serious concern in the day to day operation of a farm business.

So much so that the recent Livestock Symposium '83 held in Stratford spent the full program on Human Relations. Coping with Stress, How to Succeed, Human Attitudes and Motivation were discussed in detail.

Andy Bunn, Swine Specialist for the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food has selected the following quotations for the day.

1. Stress is self imposed.

We all need some stress to motivate us, but too much stress can be harmful.

2. Some people have a post graduate degree in worry, and most of their worries never happen.

3. Ulcers do not come from what you eat, but from what's eating you.

4. It's all right to disagree, but do not be disagreeable.

5. Don't let other people turn you against your own instincts.

6. Only you can control your attitude.

7. The more time you take off upgrading and investing in yourself, the more money you will make.

8. I refuse to dwell on the past. I think about the future because it is where I will spend the rest of my life.

9. You can be a winner or a loser. Only you can make that decision.

10. Say something nice to your spouse (husband or wife) every day.

Pavilion could be used for washroom

The municipality has proposed that one of the structures built as a mini fair pavilion be used as a frame for a washroom facility at the Minden fairgrounds.

The decision to donate the building was made during a discussion with Haliburton County Fair Board president Wayne Cox at the May 26 meeting.

The municipality had requested funds from an MNR sponsored program for three projects, but a policy for the Parks Assistance Act has limited authorization to one project. Reeve Lyle McKnight said the liaison for the program, Fred Bishop, was not optimistic about funds for the facilities being granted. The other projects for which the municipality applied were for the Gull River banks and Harrington Park, otherwise known as the Minden White Water Preserve.

According to McKnight, Bishop said the need for the washrooms is minimal due to the amount of time the grounds are used. With ice racing, the Rotary Carnival, the winter carnival and the Haliburton County Fair, the facilities would be required for was estimated at around 12 days.

McKnight said Community Recreational Centres Act (CRCA) and Wintario were also contacted but both have frozen grants for an unspecified amount of time.

After asking what funds the fair board could spare for washrooms and receiving $5,000 as an estimate, Councillor Gary Kenney suggested a pavilion from the mini fair be donated as the municipality's share. "The building and $5,000 could go a long way to fixing up the washrooms," said the councillor.

Cox added the Kinsmen club had committed $5,000 to facilities at the grounds. He said estimates he had received for the facilities hugged the $20,000 mark but said with sewers and other considerations, the cost would be closer to $25,000.

Kenney suggested the board finish the washrooms year by year if sufficient funding is not forthcoming. The pavilion could be used as a fair building if not for washrooms, he added.

"I think it's a great idea, but it's up to the board though," said Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas. Councillor Pat Burk said she would "rather see it used" than sitting in storage due to the poor response by crafts people to the mini fair.

Cox said the society had applied for an agricultural grant which could contribute another $600 to the structure.

He asked about bills from the municipality for use of the washrooms. "We'd probably charge you for only a couple of months," replied Pergolas.

Cox revealed that, according to Tom Prentice, washroom facilities could help to keep the car racing on ice, a good business boost in the winter, in the municipality.

Cox passed the plans to by-law enforcement officer Dick Schell to discover the extent of renovations necessary to allow winter use.

Owing to the long weekend, we had no fun and fitness for almost half a week; our joints got so badly stiffened up, you could almost hear them squeak. A nice service in the chapel Sunday night. The Thompsons took the first part, Rev. Burgess took the next. He took part of Matthew seventh chapter for his text. If you don't enter the straight and narrow gate what will happen next?

It is good to have the staff all back again, with their various jobs to do, when they go and leave us, life seems kind of blue. I would like to congratulate our Office Staff for a job well done; our Administrator, Sidney Brown, Olive Hamilton our Bookkeeper and Receptionist Arnie Wright.

A most interesting service in chapel Tuesday morning, conducted by Rev. John Phillips of the Haliburton Anglican Church assisted by his special guest Rev. Ivan Dyer. We had a fine organ player but hadn't any choir. Rev. Phillips took the first part of the service and sang so grand for us, then Rev. Dyer took over, the church he did discuss. A big thanks to both of you from all of us.

We played in the Tuesday afternoon games, I won't mention any names, but we had a lot of fun and I'll just say we won.

The ladies from the Horticultural Society served the tea party on Thursday and had a lovely birthday cake for those who had birthdays in the month of May. A big thank you to the ladies we would like to say.

It keeps Ken Fielding and Peter Fearrey as busy as can be, to keep things running smoothly here mechanically. The ladies working in the craft room are knitting socks or maybe afghans or piecing quilt blocks. A man has been in the rooms spraying for little red ants, if they aren't kept under control they get into everything, even in your — well everything. I would like to say in advance; with our efficient cleaners even a fly hasn't got a chance. Of all the embarrassing moments, this could be one of the best — we heard this fellow had passed away and would be laid to rest. Feeling sorry for the mother, who would be left alone one of the residents phoned to offer sympathy but the son answered the phone.

Linda is doing a real fine job as Activities Director, we do all we can to try to help her. But we are looking forward when Doris will be back with us again. Putting on the Bingo from the Kinsmen Club on Thursday night was Paul Travers and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle McKnight.

Mrs. Della Curry celebrated a birthday on the 28th day of May. The Dionne quintuplets were born on that same date, but only two of the five are left, I'm sorry to relate.

Mr. Ray Jenkins and wife came to visit his mother, dear Ray gave us some very good music on the piano while they were here. Millie Wood has made eight pair of pillow slips decorated with flowers, she is always busy, often after hours.

We had a good sing song Friday afternoon, read some humorous stories and sang some good old tunes. Norma played the music, always ready to lend a hand, we closed by singing "O Canada" our home and native land.

Sermons We See

I'd rather see a sermon than hear one any day

I'd rather one should walk with me than merely tell the way.

The eye the better pupil, and more willing than the ear

Fine counsel is confusing, but example's always clear.

And the best of all the preachers are the men who live their creeds.

For to see good put in action is what every body needs.

Your church satisfies your spiritual needs but what about your aesthetic needs? Do they not also need to be satisfied? Would it not be possible for our local residents to contribute a mere pittance for the continuation towards the dream of a dedicated woman, Dr. Agnes Jamieson, dedicated not only to her fellow man but to the finer things in life. Her gallery offers so much in the way of aesthetic joy which it was meant to do. All it takes is a mere $10.00 per person or $15.00 for a family membership. Is it not worth it for all that it offers? Please think about it. We have so many exciting things in store for you in the near future. Agnes gave so much, and we ask so little in return.

I would like to thank our talented youngsters from the Archie Stouffer School who worked tirelessly to give us a great show. I hope everyone took advantage of the work they presented. We have much talent in the area and have much to be grateful for, so our thanks to you all. We look forward to next year's works of art.

On Thursday evening, June 2, we announce the opening of the renowned photographer, Irwin Karnick at the Gallery. The exhibit begins at 7:30 p.m., with refreshments and we hope you will come out to view this man's great talent. The show took several years of very hard work, and is well worth seeing. The artist will be on hand to greet you. The show has been a resounding success wherever it has been shown so we invite all to take advantage. It is scheduled for Adelphi University in Garden City, N.Y., and Fairbanks, Alaska, among other bookings. Incidentally the photographs are for sale.

For anyone interested in hearing the interview I gave on CFMX-FM - it will be aired next Sunday, June 5 between 4 and 5 p.m.

I am happy to report that Velma Harrison who has been ailing for the past few weeks is finally on the mend. All her friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Elizabeth (Betty) Taylor of Kinmount and Eric H. Hardman of Toronto were married on Friday, May 13 in Toronto at Christ Church Deer Park, Anglican Church, by Canon Ron Davidson, assisted by Father William Harding. The Hardmans honeymooned at Eric's "camp" at Harcourt.

Walter Barrett from Bradford, visited the Philip Robinsons last week and had a very pleasant and nostalgic visit.

Congratulations to our County of Haliburton on the elevation from Provisional County to full county status. This has been a long time in coming.

Haliburton County Library staff and acting Librarians met for a workshop followed by a Luncheon at Haliburton Public Library Office May 1. From some of the discussion - for loaning tapes - these go for 2 weeks and if damaged the cost to the borrower is $10 and fines on overdue tapes are 25¢ a week.

St. Paul's Thrift shop had a very successful day last Friday. The Thrift shop will be open again this Friday from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m. Stop by and browse, there may be just the thing that you are looking for.

St. Paul's ACW will hold their last meeting on Tuesday, June 14, at the Parish Hall. They will serve a potluck supper, after which Dennis Dolloff, summer assistant to the Rev. George Elliott will be the guest speaker. The supper begins at 6:30 p.m.

The winners of the Museum Card Party last week are as follows: for cribbage, Eleanor Pye, euchre, lone hands, Freda Harrison, high, Marg McAfee. These parties are held each Thursday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. in the Common Room of the Minden Cultural Centre. Everyone is welcome.

I am sorry to report that Gerry Durant is at present a patient in Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay and George Davidson is confined to St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough. All our good wishes to them for a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sears spent the holiday weekend in Toronto as guests of Muriel Ewing.

Mr. Guy Bloomfield of R.R. 1 Minden passed away last week. Our condolences to members of his family.

On a happy note, Cameron Monk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Monk, successfully completed his first year at Humber College and is now serving his apprenticeship in Funeral service at Trull Funeral Home in Toronto. Congratulations Cameron.

I am sorry that my friend Mary Maidens is still ailing. Everyone wishes her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Harrison of Maple Lake, had her son, Terry Walker home for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harrison of Maple Lake, admitted their daughter Juanita to Sick Children's Hospital in Toronto over the weekend where she is to undergo a series of operations.

Mrs. Grace Foster of Toronto, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Merle Cox, also of Toronto, spent the past week at their cottage at Maple Lake.

This weather has been enough to bring valetudinarian malaise to everyone in the vicinity and to the poor tourists trying to get a bit of sunshine and also to put their cottages in order. However it is to be hoped that better days are coming. Perhaps we'll have a magnificent summer.

Confucius say "Man with thick head make thin conversation".

The Executive Meeting of the Lindsay Presbyterian United Church Women will be held on Monday, June 6 at 10:00 a.m. at the Haliburton United Church. Please bring a box lunch.

Companion
We have walked life's path together
Every day and every night
You are still my great companion
Always there, though out of sight.
In the darkness, in the shadow
In the daylight shining bright,
You will ever be beside me
With your glowing kindly light
Showing me your understanding
Whispered soft as a caress
And to me you are my brother
And your name is loneliness.

kid's korner

by Jean Lacey

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Some have hidden words or sayings, some do not. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

Q: What kind of spy never gets out of bed?

A: An under cover agent.

Q: What happens to little kids who eat bullets?

A: Their hair grows out in bangs.

Q: What is the best way to make a slow horse fast?

A: Tie him to a post.

Q: What is a dog doing when he eats a lot?

A: Making a pig of himself.

The following jokes were sent to me from my little friend Kerry.

Q: What is the largest ant?

A: Jolly green giant.

Q: What does Tarzan sing at Christmas?

A: Jungle bells.

Q: What is orange and keeps falling off the wall?

A: Humpty pumpkin.

Q: Why do elephants have trunks?

A: Because they don't have glove compartments.

Bye for now. Take it easy. God bless till next time.
